

Baldwin County

Baldwin County 4-H and Family and Consumer Sciences(FACS) introduced Summer Fun Days emphasizing life skills. Youth engaged in enjoyable activities while learning valuable budgeting, cooking and upcycling skills. Baldwin and Wilkes County FACS agents collaborated on a financial literacy blog that reached over 130 site visitors with 21 blog posts. The Agriculture and Natural Resources agent developed disease management training for GC&SU Facilities employees. Participants engaged in learning exercises focused on a plant disease overview, sprayer calibration, turfgrass disease, irrigation problems and ornamental disease management. Sixteen employees participated and indicated that the information they received would help their job performance.

A healthy Georgia is a better Georgia.

University of Georgia Cooperative Extension offers programming focused on mental health, financial well-being, nutrition and everything in between. UGA Extension had 1,808,305 face-to-face contacts in 2023. Of these, 170,771 contacts addressed health and wellness topics, including rural and farm stress.

Extension is committed to helping rural Georgia farmers and families thrive. UGA Extension provides physical and mental health resources to keep rural Georgia growing stronger, especially when times are tough. Our new Behavioral Health Team provides fact sheets, trainings and a weekly blog—all to help Georgia individuals and families thrive.

Growing cities.

UGA Extension helps urban gardeners develop school gardens, community gardens and urban farms to benefit their communities. Extension works with educators to create sustainable outdoor classrooms that function as successful teaching tools. Community gardeners are supported in growing healthy food crops in small spaces while urban farmers are encouraged to apply the latest agricultural research to grow their businesses.

Committed to Georgia's youth.

Georgia's 4-H enrolled 173,505 youths across the state during the 2022-23 school year.

Get the facts.

UGA Extension publications are the go-to source for unbiased, research-based information in the state of Georgia.
